Defence Costs To Increase

OTTAWA, March 2.—(CP)—Trade Minister Howe yesterday told a press conference that defence expenditures in 1949 would exceed 1948 and that in 1950 they would be higher than this year. Figures were not divulged.

But whereas in the past three years there have been large increases in the maintenance of personnel, the increase will go into equipment. The minister talked to correspondents on a wide range of subjects but gave little detail. He said:

"Negotiations now are going forward with the United States for a new trade agreement. It is a new trade agreement with that country. He declined to forecast a recent high for a conclusion. The government considered the situation of European aid funds to be satisfactory and that something should not be done to cut Canada's export to the United States, which reached a record high in 1948, would continue through 1949.

Addressing a three-day board meeting which started yesterday, he called adverse weather, lack of interest and movement of people to urban areas as factors in the problem.

Rev. Hugh Dobson of Vancouver, B.C.'s associate secretary said British Columbia has more need for rural church leadership than anywhere else in Canada.

Attempts to develop social drabbing and hold entertainment and political meetings on Sundays in B.C. was a "throwback to paganism," he said.

No Case for Increase

Norman D. Wilson's report on the Edmonton transit system is most remarkable in that it fails to make out the slightest case for higher fares.

In most respects it is a document written by an expert for experts. But even the limited technical knowledge of the layman can recognize good sense behind some of the recommendations.

For instance, the decentralization of the system with new lines in South Edmonton and the West End will commend itself to critics of the present situation.

As a matter of fact the dead mileage involved in hauling cars and buses to one extreme end of the city was one of instances cited by The Edmonton Bulletin as an example of a cumbersome operation which ran up costs.

A second proposal of merit has to do with the establishment of a research department of the transit system which would study routing and service and provide accurate statistics for operational changes.

Obviously the Edmonton cannot operate successfully without all the facts, which transit officials have apparently been trying to do.

For the rest of it, the report suggests no less than 16 changes in street car and bus routes and four constructional and extensional changes.

Indeed, the significant thing about this report to the layman is not so much the nature of the changes as the number of changes considered essential.

In other words, the transit system has been operating in error in at least 20 particulars.

Surely this erroneous operation must be held responsible for at least part of the deficits.

And that bears out fully the contention of The Bulletin and thousands of citizens that the rectification of operational errors should result in an increase in revenue and make both increased fares and increased taxation unnecessary.

Thus, while it is difficult to find fault with Mr. Wilson's facts, it is easy to criticize the results he draws from them.

Actually, there seems to be no relation between the results of his survey and the financial recommendations he has made.

On the one hand he shows the Edmonton system where it has been losing money on operations and, on the other hand, he proposes a higher fare.

The two proposals do not appear to be compatible.

Quite clearly, Mr. Wilson's advice about higher fares is not based on the technical part of his survey which makes out no case at all for higher fares.

Higher fares, however, appear to be a personal observation of the expert.

Mr. Wilson insisted on higher fares before he even began to examine the Edmonton system. He did exactly the same thing in Calgary.

And he tried it in Toronto, his home town.

Recently Mr. Wilson made a survey in Toronto and recommended that fares be raised from 6 1/2 cents to a dime.

The Toronto Transportation Commission replied that since it had retired 100,000 in bonded debt since 1921, paid for $25,000,000 worth of new equipment and the $45,000,000 in the bank, it saw no reason to increase fares.

Evidently Toronto officials are not so easily stampeded as those of Edmonton.

Editor, Bulletin.—Congratulations on your frank and justifiable criticism of the mayor and commissioners of the Edmonton Transit System.

You have gained many friends on account of this. For myself I have only been a casual reader but now I am one of your regulars.

These officers are too big for their job, adopting drastic tactics and getting away with it. More power to you. JIM.

Apologies To Jackass

Editor, Bulletin.—I usually enjoy reading Mr. Weir's articles of current events, but would like to suggest that he confine his comments to subjects that he understands.

Leafs Threaten Protest As EAC's 3-2 Victors

Fans Don't Scare Babe Sharkey
Babe Sharkey, the 240-pound forward from Houston, Texas, just won't take "no" for an answer. After dropping two of three falls to Edmonton's Stu Hart in the "main" main go at the Skunk Pavilion last night, Sharkey went on a rampage, roughing up referee Butcher Boy Higgins more than once.

Some of the fans were incensed over this misbehavior of justice and promptly moved in on Sharkey. General Custer in his last stand, Sharkey didn't even bat an eyelash as he pushed his way to the dressing room.

While the Babe lost to the popular Stu Hart, he won't let it get to him. At one stage of the brief struggle he had the referee all but under his thumb.

Hart took the first and third falls but his opponent was pinned between them. Sharkey came up with a rolling front-fall which never hit.

Jerry Meeker pinned newcomer Frank McKenna twice in the second main fall. The latter copped the first fall with a hip-throw and body press, but Meeker came back, first with a knee drop and body press, then with an elbow slam.

Neither the Sheik Emir Baduri nor Frankie Miquel managed a fall before the time limit in the special. It was a draw.

Referee Goldstick disqualified Tex Williams in the preliminary against Larry Jacobson.

Chilly Opening For Major Ball Clubs

CHICAGO, March 2. — (AP) — Sixteen major league baseball clubs started their 1949 spring training chores yesterday with the chilliest weather in two months reported from Florida training centres and the usual number of hold-outs generating considerable heat.

The west coast of Florida, where squanders for six clubs, experienced the first cold spell since New Year's day with temperatures ranging from 47 to 51 degrees. The chill didn't interfere with the first-day workout.

The holdout list was reduced a trifle by the last-minute signing of Don Dillinger of Boston Red Sox. Phil Marston of Cincinnati Athletics, Jimmy Blanton of Philadelphia Phillies and Vic Lombard of Pittsburgh Pirates. This still left a considerable number of unsigned and untried starters, with the 1948 champion Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves experiencing the greatest loss.

The club permitted four un-signed players to work out with the club at Tucson, Ariz. Second baseman Joe Jordan, pitcher Gene Bearden, and outfielder Willie Hayes and Roberto Ayala were permitted to join the drills. But Ben Linn, San Diego's pitcher, and Art Wilson were not.

The Braves, at Bradenton, Fla., listed eight holdouts. Gladys Williams, pitcher, and Joe Mauer, catcher. Phil Mauer, second baseman. Eddie Sappington, pitcher. And Ray LaPlante, pitcher. As they hoped right into batting practice.

As Flyers Score 9-5 Win

McGill Offers Coast Boy Scholarship
SASKATCHEWAN, March 2. — (CP) — Edmonton Flyers packed all their punch in the second and third periods last night to wallop Saskatoon Quakers 9-5 in one of the closing games of the Western Canada Hockey League schedule.

The result left Edmonton in second place in the league, with 59 points—seven points behind Regina Caps.

Though the final score did not indicate it, Quakers had the better play in the first period. A fall of cinders and the two have been to Quakers for the most "hot tricks" among the Quakers during the season. Quakers did the "hot trick" twice, once at home and once on the road.

VASCHUK GOT FIRST
Quakers' line scoring effort came after Mike Vaschuk caught a crisp passing play with Sid Fenn and Dave Livingstone with a shot which gave Keith Woodall no choice.

Johnny Sofka, Quaker cutback, had only five shots to make in the first period. Woodall was called on to kick out 13, many of them from close in.

Vaschuk added two more goals for Quakers and Dave Livingstone also scored a brace.

For Flyers, Andy Clovechok and Alex Pringle scored two each. But Mackenzie, Doug Anderson, Marty Rimm, Bud Maher and Gordie Watt one apiece.

Flyers began exerting scoring pressure in the second. Clovechok setting the pace with two goals in the first period. Watt scoring things up at the 3:15 mark by faking Woodall out of position after breaking a pass from Billy Johnston.

With Fiers short a man, Mackenzie broke five shots to make in the first period. Woodall was called on to kick out 13, many of them from close in.

Throne Debate Speeches Took 20 Full Hours

Debate on the Alberta speech from the throne closed at a night sitting of the Alberta legislature yesterday after 20 speakers had contributed to the discussion.

Talk on the resolution to thank the lieutenant-governor for his gracious speech started on Friday, Feb. 16, with F. C. Colbourne (S.C. Calgary) leading off.

Twenty-four hours of speeches on this subject followed. All are members of the opposition took part in the debate.

Debate was interrupted for discussions on two resolutions, but resumed at 10 o'clock on Saturday.

Way is now cleared for introduction of money bills and for the passage of the budget, which is expected on Friday.

Blanket invitation to join Social Credit ranks was extended to all opposition members except Arthur Way (Ind. S.C. Banff-Calgary) by Fred C. Colbourne (S.C. Calgary) at the close of the debate.

Mr. Colbourne said the CCF's objective of democratic control of economic forces fitted the Social Credit position, except where the CCF demanded elimination of the profit motive.

CCF members "need only to remember the profit motive to bring themselves in line with government policy," he said.

Liberalism will soon have the choice of aligning themselves with socialism or the government, Mr. Colbourne said, suggesting that the two groups were working together.

Mr. Way was ignored entirely.

Mr. Way said he was not a member of the Social Credit party, but he was a member of the Alberta Motor Association.

Alta. Welfare Code Will Be Revamped

U.S. Adoptions Will Not Be Halted

Child welfare officers will be appointed in every Alberta municipality and there will be rigid inspection of all homes where children are placed for adoption.

These were among four measures announced in the provincial house yesterday by Hon. H. W. Cross, Alberta minister of health and public welfare.

Measures aimed at making public information concerning child welfare by personnel of the Child Welfare Commission, and also to work along with a provision providing that a district court judge must pass on adoptions before orders are finally made.

STILL IN U.S. Speaking in the Throne Speech, Mr. Cross indicated that the welfare code will be revised for adoption in the United States as long as good homes can be found there. In this respect it was pointed out that the province is not inclined to reject a recommendation of the Child Welfare Board, Commission recommending cross-border adoptions to the United States.

Dr. Cross further attacked the type of U.S. Charles Whitten on Alberta child welfare conditions made in the provincial chamber of the House.

He did not name the Whitten but called him "the writer of the 10th report."

The minister said Dr. Whitten's report was "a disgrace to the work of C. H. Hill, chairman of the Alberta Child Welfare Commission, and other government employees because they were not trained as well as he was."

It was gratifying to know a public institution had been reached, Mr. Cross said. He hoped new legislation would remove other causes of dissatisfaction.

LAUNCHES ATTACK Declared the minister: "Any individual who would allow his work to be the property of people for their children through false propaganda and to ruin the reputation of men and women who have given good and faithful service to every government, were it in Alberta, does not deserve the respect of any member of this house."

Dr. Cross warmly denied what were termed insinuations by Dr. Whitten that the government was ashamed of the Royal Commission report. Said the minister: "We are proud about what the Commission report says of the work of the child welfare officers."

He added that certain specific charges made by Dr. Whitten have been thoroughly disproved.

Police Veterans Royal North West Mounted Police Association will hold its monthly meeting on Friday in the recreation room of the RCMP barracks at 8 p.m.

One Vote Dissents As Hartley Given Post

James Hartley (S.C. Little Bow) was named deputy speaker by the Alberta legislature yesterday.

The post carries with it the responsibility of the legislative assembly, which is the second-ranking stage.

He didn't win the job without a fight. Arthur Way (Ind. S.C. Banff-Calgary) wanted assurance he could get a standing vote in committee when he requested it. Mr. Way recalled faults efforts a year ago to gain a resolved vote from the chairman.

There was a sharp interchange of "points-of-order" and "points-of-parliament" between the Banff-Calgary member and Hon. Lucien Mervin, attorney-general.

Mr. Way's name sounded the loudest. "No one votes to name Mr. Hartley as deputy speaker was put to the assembly."

Collieries Urged In Peace River By B.C. Member VICTORIA, B.C., March 2.—(UPI)—Development of the Peace River district could be the province's greatest asset, the B.C. member of the legislature by Arthur J. Turner (Vancouver East) who said as well, he did not think citizens of the province should be left in the dark as to the possibilities of the district.

Representation of non-Depot the member said, would go a long way to meeting costs involved in extending the road north from Prince George.

A Crown company could do the mining and hauling, with reputable retailers handling the sales. There were known deposits of 150,000,000 tons.

Estimated cost of mining one million tons was $125 per ton, or $125,000,000 per ton for another three million tons. Freight cost of one dollar a ton per million tons would give a profit to the government of from 50¢ to 25¢ per ton, he said.

Mr. Lee was giving the second and final instalment of his contribution to the Throne Speech debate on the income tax.

Yesterday he recalled statements he had made on the difference between the Canadian and the American tax on income.

He said the major obstacle to increasing production was the farm income tax.

He said a one per cent tax on production collected in the form of a tax on the value of the product would be a fairer and more equitable method of raising revenue.

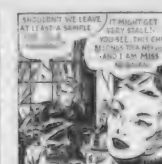

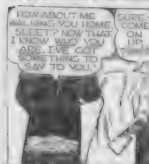

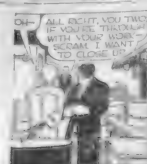

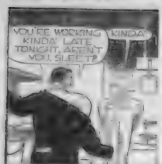

Mr. Lee said the American farmer is now facing a loss for his production of potatoes and "it is extremely unequal for the farmer to be taxed on the value of his product when he is producing a loss."
